

Please leave the no call list as is. This is not only annoying to be getting these calls anytime of the day or night but is causing alot of buying that people can't afford as well as cr. cards they can't control. Are the banks suffering because they can't sell the lists as readily as they used to? Do not consider a change.